INSIDE OUT
A Garden Oasis In Old Naples

FABULOUS FLORALS Pillows by CHRISTIAN LACROIX offer pops of color. “The non matching element is what gives the room the whimsy we were after,” Liegeois notes.

GATHER 'ROUND For maximum durability and weather resistance, Liegeois chose an all-marble table for entertaining and dining.

LAYERED LOOKS Liegeois installed overlays by ACURIO LATTICE and faux greenery from BEE ART to add texture and dimension “We wanted an English conservatory feeling,” she says.

HAVE A SEAT Liegeois says garden seats are always a good choice, “both as side tables and an extra seat, if needed.”

ODE TO ORGANICS
To embrace the outdoors, Liegeois used lamps reminiscent of mangroves, shell-clad accessories, and a nest made from old vines foraged from the property.

MIXING IT UP Liegeois paired vintage seating upholstered in green and gray Fortuny fabric with more modern pieces, like this oval bamboo coffee table.

BRICK BY BRICK The Chicago brick flooring laid in a herringbone pattern was original to the home. Liegeois allowed it to take center stage, instead of covering it with an outdoor rug.
